

Hannah and the Happy Hare

MAKALHA LYLE

Hannah is a kind little girl with lovely black hair and a bright yellow dress, smiling warmly on a sunny morning. She stands in a vibrant green garden filled with colorful flowers and buzzing bees. With a happy heart, she helps her mother water the tall, leafy green plants.

While holding a small green watering can, Hannah suddenly stops and tilts her head with a curious expression. She cups her hand to her ear to hear closely, wondering where the sound is coming from. The warm morning sun casts a gentle, golden glow over the peaceful garden.

A tiny, faint voice calls out for help from behind a large patch of bright red tulips. Hannah peeks through the green stems with big, caring eyes. She wants to help whoever is in trouble right away.

Hannah parts the tall flower stems and discovers a small, trembling brown rabbit hiding in the dirt. The little rabbit looks very hungry and lost, shivering slightly among the green leaves. Hannah looks down at the furry creature with deep compassion and a gentle smile.

Hello there, little rabbit, Hannah says in a sweet, soft voice to comfort her new friend. The brown rabbit twitches its long ears and looks up at Hannah with hopeful, blinking eyes. Hannah gently reaches out her hand to show she means no harm.

Hannah stands up and decides to search the garden to find the lost rabbit home. She walks past colorful flower beds and tall green bushes, keeping her eyes wide open. Her bright yellow dress flutters gently in the warm morning breeze.

Hannah looks behind a big, twisting oak tree with thick brown bark and deep roots. She peeks around the trunk, searching every possible corner of the garden. The little brown rabbit hops closely behind the yellow dress, trusting its kind guide.

Hannah spots a small, cozy burrow tucked safely beneath the roots of the giant tree. The tiny rabbit hops inside its warm home and immediately feels safe and happy. The little animal wiggles its nose with pure joy at being back where it belongs.

The happy brown rabbit pops its head out of the burrow to say a cheerful goodbye to Hannah. Hannah waves happily with a big smile, feeling so glad she could help. Sunlight filters through the leafy tree branches, creating a magical and heartwarming moment.

Hannah runs back to her mother in the sunny garden to share the wonderful adventure. Her proud mother hugs Hannah tightly and praises her for being so kind and helpful. The garden glows with warmth as Hannah smiles happily, her heart full of joy.
