

Poppy's Potty Problem

Poop Poop

Poppy's Journey

Poppy, a little girl with bright blonde hair, sat on her tiny blue potty. She squeezed her eyes shut and strained, but nothing happened.

Frustration bubbled up inside Poppy. Her face turned red, and she stamped her foot. "It won't come out!" she cried.

In a fit of anger, Poppy reached down, determined to pull the poop out herself. Her little hand hovered hesitantly above the potty.

Suddenly, the bathroom door opened, and Mom walked in, a knowing smile on her face. "Having a little trouble, sweetie?"

Mom held up a large, colorful tool with a special seat attachment. "I have just the thing! It's the Poop-Wiggler 3000!"

Poppy's eyes widened with curiosity. Mom carefully attached the Poop-Wiggler 3000 to Poppy's potty, making sure it was secure.

Mom helped Poppy sit on the new seat.
"Now, just bounce up and down gently, and the wiggling will help!"

Poppy started to bounce, giggling as the Poop-Wiggler 3000 did its work. She bounced higher and higher, laughing with delight.

With one final wiggle and a triumphant push, Poppy successfully pooped! She jumped off the potty, beaming with pride.

Mom gave Poppy a big hug. "You did it, Poppy! You're a potty-training superstar!" They celebrated with a silly dance.
