

Mia's New Adventure and a Special New Friend

Mia Kollias

Mia loves spending time at Moving Mountains Village with her special kindergarten friend every single day. Together, they build giant toy towers, share colorful storybooks, and enjoy fun routines. Kindergarten is a warm place where playing and learning feel safe and predictable.

Mia's special job is to help her friend learn new things, practice deep calm breaths, and give cheerful high-fives. They follow a visual daily schedule that makes every morning clear and comfortable. Mia always has a warm smile and a helping hand ready.

One cozy afternoon, Mia sits down to talk about an exciting new change. Mia is getting ready to pack her bags and move far away to sunny Queensland, where tall palm trees grow. Change is a normal part of life, and talking about it helps us feel ready.

Moving to Queensland means Mia will be leaving Moving Mountains Village soon. It is completely okay to feel sad, quiet, or confused when someone you like moves away. Feelings are like ocean waves that come and go, and all feelings are safe to share.

Mia shows a big colorful map to explain where Queensland is on the coast. Even though Mia will be living in a different sunny city, all the happy memories made at kindergarten stay tucked safely inside their hearts forever.

Mia shares some very good news about what happens next at Moving Mountains Village. A wonderful new helper is coming to join the team and spend time together at school every day.

The new helper is super friendly, patient, and full of bright energy. They are excited to learn all about favorite playground games, colorful drawing crayons, and cozy quiet corners.

On Mia's last day at Moving Mountains Village, they share a special goodbye tradition. They make happy colorful drawings together and exchange big gentle high-fives to celebrate all their fun times.

Mia arrives safely in bright, sunny Queensland and looks at the blue ocean waves. Back at kindergarten, her friend takes a deep breath and welcomes the new helper with a kind smile.

The new helper brings lots of joy and support, and kindergarten continues to be a safe, happy place. Mia is happy in Queensland, her friend is thriving at school, and everyone sees how brave and special they are.
