

THE DINOSAUR BUDDIES

By Alex & Mia

Rexy and the Secret Cave

Neil Singh

Rexy and the Secret Cave. Written and Illustrated by Skyy Singh. A big, friendly green T-Rex named Rexy smiles and waves in front of a lush green jungle filled with tall palm trees.

Rexy lives in a bright green jungle with tall trees and colorful flowers. He is a very happy dinosaur who loves to explore his beautiful home every single day.

One sunny morning, Rexy finds an old, dusty map hidden under a giant fern leaf. The map has a big red X that shows the way to a mysterious secret cave.

Rexy follows the map through the thick jungle, stomping his big feet happily. He walks past blue ponds and bright orange butterflies, feeling very excited for his adventure.

At the mouth of the secret cave, a large Triceratops stands in the way. He looks a little bit sad because a very heavy rock is blocking the entrance to the cave.

Rexy asks the Triceratops if they can be friends and work together. They both use their strong muscles to push the heavy boulder until it finally rolls away with a loud thud.

Rexy and the Triceratops walk into the cave and see a soft, golden light. The walls of the cave sparkle like stars, and the two friends feel very brave as they explore.

- THE LUMINA CHRONICLES -
CHAPTER 3: THE AWKANIING EGG

In the middle of the cave, they find a nest filled with beautiful, glowing golden eggs. It is the most wonderful treasure Remy and the Triceratops have ever seen.

Rexy and his new friend decide to share their discovery with everyone in the jungle. They carry the glowing eggs outside and call all the other dinosaurs to come and see.

All the dinosaurs have a big party in the jungle to celebrate the treasure and their new friendship. Rexy is the happiest T-Rex in the world as they all dance together.