

Leo's Big House Adventure

Lidija Ristovska

Leo the puppy wakes up on his soft blue rug in the cozy living room. He looks around, but his favorite bouncy red ball is missing. He decides to search every room in the house to find it.

Leo steps out into the long hallway. He sniffs near the tall coat rack and looks behind a large potted plant. The red ball is not in the hallway, so he keeps moving.

Leo trots into the bright and shiny kitchen. The room smells like sweet apples and warm bread. He looks under the kitchen counter and near the refrigerator, but his ball is not there.

Next, Leo enters the peaceful dining room. He peeks under the long wooden dining table and walks around the chairs. He sees a bowl of fruit on the table, but no red ball.

Leo climbs up the stairs and walks into the colorful bedroom. He looks underneath the soft bed and checks behind the curtains. His ball is not hiding in the bedroom.

Leo peeks inside the neat and tidy bathroom. He sees his funny reflection in the mirror above the sink. He looks behind the bath towels and near the white bathtub, but the ball is not inside.

Leo pushes open the door to the quiet study room. Bookshelves full of colorful books line the walls. He checks under the big wooden desk, but his ball is nowhere to be found.

Leo wanders into the clean laundry room. He sniffs the warm air filled with the scent of fresh soap. He looks into the empty laundry basket, but it is empty.

Leo pushes open the screen door to the sunny garden. He trots across the green grass and sniffs the red roses near the fence. He plays with a butterfly, but his ball is not outside.

Leo trots back inside into the comfortable living room. He kneels down and looks deep under the soft sofa cushion. There, shining brightly in the corner, is his beloved red ball!
