

Twilight Promises: Carson and Greta

LittleLiarErica xx

Carson stands alone under warm evening light near an old brick stadium, adjusting a small box nervously in her pocket.

Greta arrives, walking up a dirt path, her smile immediate and bright, unaware of what's coming.

They sit on a wooden bench, talking and laughing, the background slightly blurred.

Carson becomes quiet, looking at Greta with intense affection, her hand drifting back to her pocket.

Carson stands and gently pulls Greta up, taking both of her hands.

Carson drops to one knee on the path, looking up at Greta with a hopeful, nervous smile.

Greta gasps, her hands flying to her mouth, tears of joy welling in her eyes.

Carson presents a simple, elegant ring, her voice soft as she speaks.

Greta nods vigorously, crying and smiling, and Carson slides the ring onto her finger.

They embrace tightly under the rising stars, the stadium lights twinkling in the distance, a new chapter beginning.
