

THE DRAGON'S GIFT

A LEO ADVENTURE

Leo and the Secret Gate

SELİN ÖZACAR

Leo was playing in his room when he noticed a strange, shimmering outline on the far wall. As he reached out, a golden handle appeared, revealing a mysterious door that had never been there before.

With a deep breath, Leo pulled the handle and stepped through the frame into a world of twilight. He found himself standing at the edge of a vast, dark forest where the air smelled of pine and ancient secrets.

He began to walk along a mossy path, dwarfed by the incredibly tall green trees that stretched toward the stars. The forest was quiet, and the soft glow of fireflies lit his way through the deep shadows.

Suddenly, a thunderous noise echoed through the woods, shaking the leaves from the branches. Leo stopped and looked around, his heart beating fast as the ground beneath his feet began to vibrate.

A magnificent dragon with scales like polished emeralds emerged from the thicket and stood before him. Its eyes were large and golden, glowing with a gentle light that made Leo feel surprisingly safe.

The dragon lowered its massive head and looked closely at Leo, letting out a soft, warm breath. It didn't seem scary at all, and it tilted its head as if inviting Leo to follow it deeper into the woods.

Leo decided to trust his new friend and followed the dragon as it moved gracefully through the towering trees. They walked past glowing flowers and silver streams that sparkled in the moonlight.

As they reached the edge of the forest, a breathtaking white castle appeared on a nearby hill. Its tall towers were topped with sparkling blue crystals that shimmered like diamonds against the night sky.

The dragon led Leo across a bridge of light and into the castle's magnificent courtyard. Everywhere he looked, there were magical gardens and fountains that sprayed water made of pure starlight.

Leo felt a deep sense of peace and joy as he looked up at the friendly dragon and the beautiful home before him. He knew he had found a magical place where he wanted to stay and have adventures forever.
