

The $1 Noodle vs. The $10,000 Golden Burger

Nurasin

Max Mega-Byte stands in a high-tech studio under bright neon lights, pointing excitedly at two pedestals. On the left, a goofy $1 instant noodle bowl steams with a simple cartoon smile, while on the right, a $10,000 golden burger sparkles with real diamonds and a divine, heavenly glow.

Max takes a huge, slurping bite of the cheap noodles, his eyes turning into giant hearts as a rainbow of flavor explodes in the background. The golden burger sits untouched on its velvet cushion, looking stiff and overly decorated with its cold, hard gems and heavy gold leaf.

Instead of keeping the riches for himself, Max shares the wealth by hosting a massive noodle party for all his friends. They all cheer under a shower of confetti and bright colors, realizing that a simple meal shared with others is the most valuable experience of all.
