

Lulu and the Colorful Fruit Basket

Evelin Rodrigues

Hello! My name is Lulu. I am four years old, and I am a soft pink monster who loves sweet snacks. Today, I am carrying my bright yellow basket into the sunny meadow to gather delicious treats.

In my yellow basket, I place one shiny red apple. It smells so sweet and crisp! I smile happily as I take my first step on the forest path to meet my friends.

Look, here comes my fluffy blue monster friend! Hello, my name is Milo, and I am four years old, says Milo with a smile. Milo gladly puts two yellow bananas into the basket.

Next, a fuzzy green monster skips out from behind a big oak tree. Hello, my name is Coco, he cheers. Coco proudly adds three juicy orange oranges to our growing fruit collection.

A playful purple monster named Pip bounces into the sunny clearing. Hello, my name is Pip, she giggles while balancing four crisp green pears on her head before popping them into the basket.

Soon, a cheerful yellow monster strolls over with a big bright smile. Hello, my name is Bella, she sings softly. Bella carefully places five sweet purple grapes into our picnic pile.

Suddenly, a fluffy red monster zips down the grassy hill with excitement. Hello, my name is Ziggy, he shouts with joy. Ziggy tosses six delicious pink strawberries right into the middle of the basket.

A tiny orange monster waddles over holding a little wooden tray. Hello, my name is Dot, she chirps happily. Dot rolls seven plump blue blueberries into our overflowing rainbow basket.

ly, a friendly turquoise monster with fuzzy ears joins our happy group. Hello, my name is Toby, he greets everyone warmheartedly. Toby neatly arranges eight fuzzy brown kiwis right on top.

All the colorful monster friends sit together in a big friendly circle under the rainbow. We proudly count all our vibrant fruits and enjoy a wonderful, delicious picnic party together.
