

THE GREAT PICNIC MISSION

Teamwork Saves Lunch!

The Great Picnic Mission

Joanne Jane

Morning sunlight streams through the windows of the Oakwood Primary School kitchen, illuminating a table piled high with colorful ingredients. Alya stands tall with her checklist ready, while Ben adjusts his glasses to inspect the pasta salad and Kumar jumps for joy at the sight of the cookies. It is the start of their most important mission yet: preparing the perfect, healthy school picnic.

As the team begins to assemble sandwiches and wash crisp apples, a tiny, shadowy figure lurks near the edge of the counter. Captain Germ, a mischievous green creature invisible to the human eye, watches with a devious grin, waiting for someone to forget a rule. Alya remains focused, her eyes scanning the checklist to ensure every step is followed perfectly.

Ben points to a diagram of a magnifying glass, explaining the importance of keeping their workspace spotless to keep tiny invaders away. Kumar pauses mid-cheer to reach for a shiny red strawberry, but Alya quickly reminds him of the first rule on her list. The air is thick with determination as the trio prepares to defend their food from the unseen enemy.

Captain Germ leaps toward the pasta salad, but he is thwarted when Ben snaps a lid onto the container just in time. The kitchen becomes a battlefield of cleanliness, with the children using bright tongs and clean napkins to keep everything pristine. Even though they cannot see him, their careful habits act like an invisible shield against the tiny villain's plans.

With the final cookie placed safely in the basket, the kitchen looks as clean as when they first started. Captain Germ grumbles in the shadows, defeated by the team's perfect hygiene and Alya's unwavering focus on her checklist. Every sandwich is wrapped and every fruit is tucked away, ready for the great outdoors.

Mission Accomplished!

The trio marches out of the kitchen and into the bright playground, carrying their picnic basket like a hard-won treasure chest. Behind them, the kitchen is sparkling, and Captain Germ is nowhere to be found. Alya, Ben, and Kumar share a triumphant smile, knowing their mission was a delicious and healthy success.