The Surprise Skating Teacher

Stella Brooks

Lucy and Charlotte are zooming around the big wooden gym floor, but they keep bumping into the padded walls with loud thuds. Their roller skates are a bit wobbly, and they begin to wonder if their teacher is ever going to show up.

Suddenly, the heavy gym doors swing open with a bright sound, and a mysterious figure rolls inside with perfect balance. Lucy and Charlotte are so startled by the sight that they let out a scream so loud it makes the very roof of the gym rattle.

Other children rush toward the newcomer, but they aren't scared at all; they reach out to hug her soft, purple fluffy fur. Everyone admires her vibrant rainbow beanie and her big, sparkly eyes that shimmer with every color of the rainbow.

The purple monster peels a yellow banana for a snack, looking so adorable that the children can't help but giggle. When they ask for her name, she smiles warmly and introduces herself as Izzy, the friendliest monster they have ever met.

Izzy asks the class to show off their skating skills, but the gym quickly becomes a comedy of errors. Children are sliding, slipping, and tumbling onto the floor in a giant, happy pile of tangled limbs and wheels.

It is time for the official lesson to begin, and Izzy starts with the most important step of all. She patiently shows everyone how to push themselves up and find their balance after they have fallen down.

Next, Izzy demonstrates how to move their legs in a rhythmic stride to start gliding across the floor. The children watch her every move with wide eyes, feeling more excited than ever to master the art of skating.

Izzy glides through the gym, helping each student stand in a perfectly straight line before holding their backs to guide them. Some children continue to crash into the walls, but Lucy and Charlotte finally find their balance and cheer with joy.

As the lesson ends, the parents walk into the gym and gasp in shock when they see a fuzzy monster emerging from the side door. Izzy proudly explains that she is their teacher, leaving the moms and dads with their mouths wide open in disbelief.

The parents soon realize that Izzy is the kindest and most talented teacher their children have ever had. Now, they visit the gym every day to watch the wonderful purple monster lead the class with her sparkly eyes and expert skating.
