

Fiyya Learns About Allah

Melisa Imelda

On a bright, sunny morning, little Fiyya steps outside into her colorful garden and gazes up at the sky. Looking at the soft fluffy clouds drifting across the blue sky, her heart fills with wonder. She turns to her mother with a curious smile and asks who made everything around them.

Mother smiles warmly, sits beside Fiyya, and softly explains that Allah created everything in the world. Fiyya listens intently with big, sparkling eyes, feeling cozy and loved. She feels excited to discover more about Allah's wonderful creations.

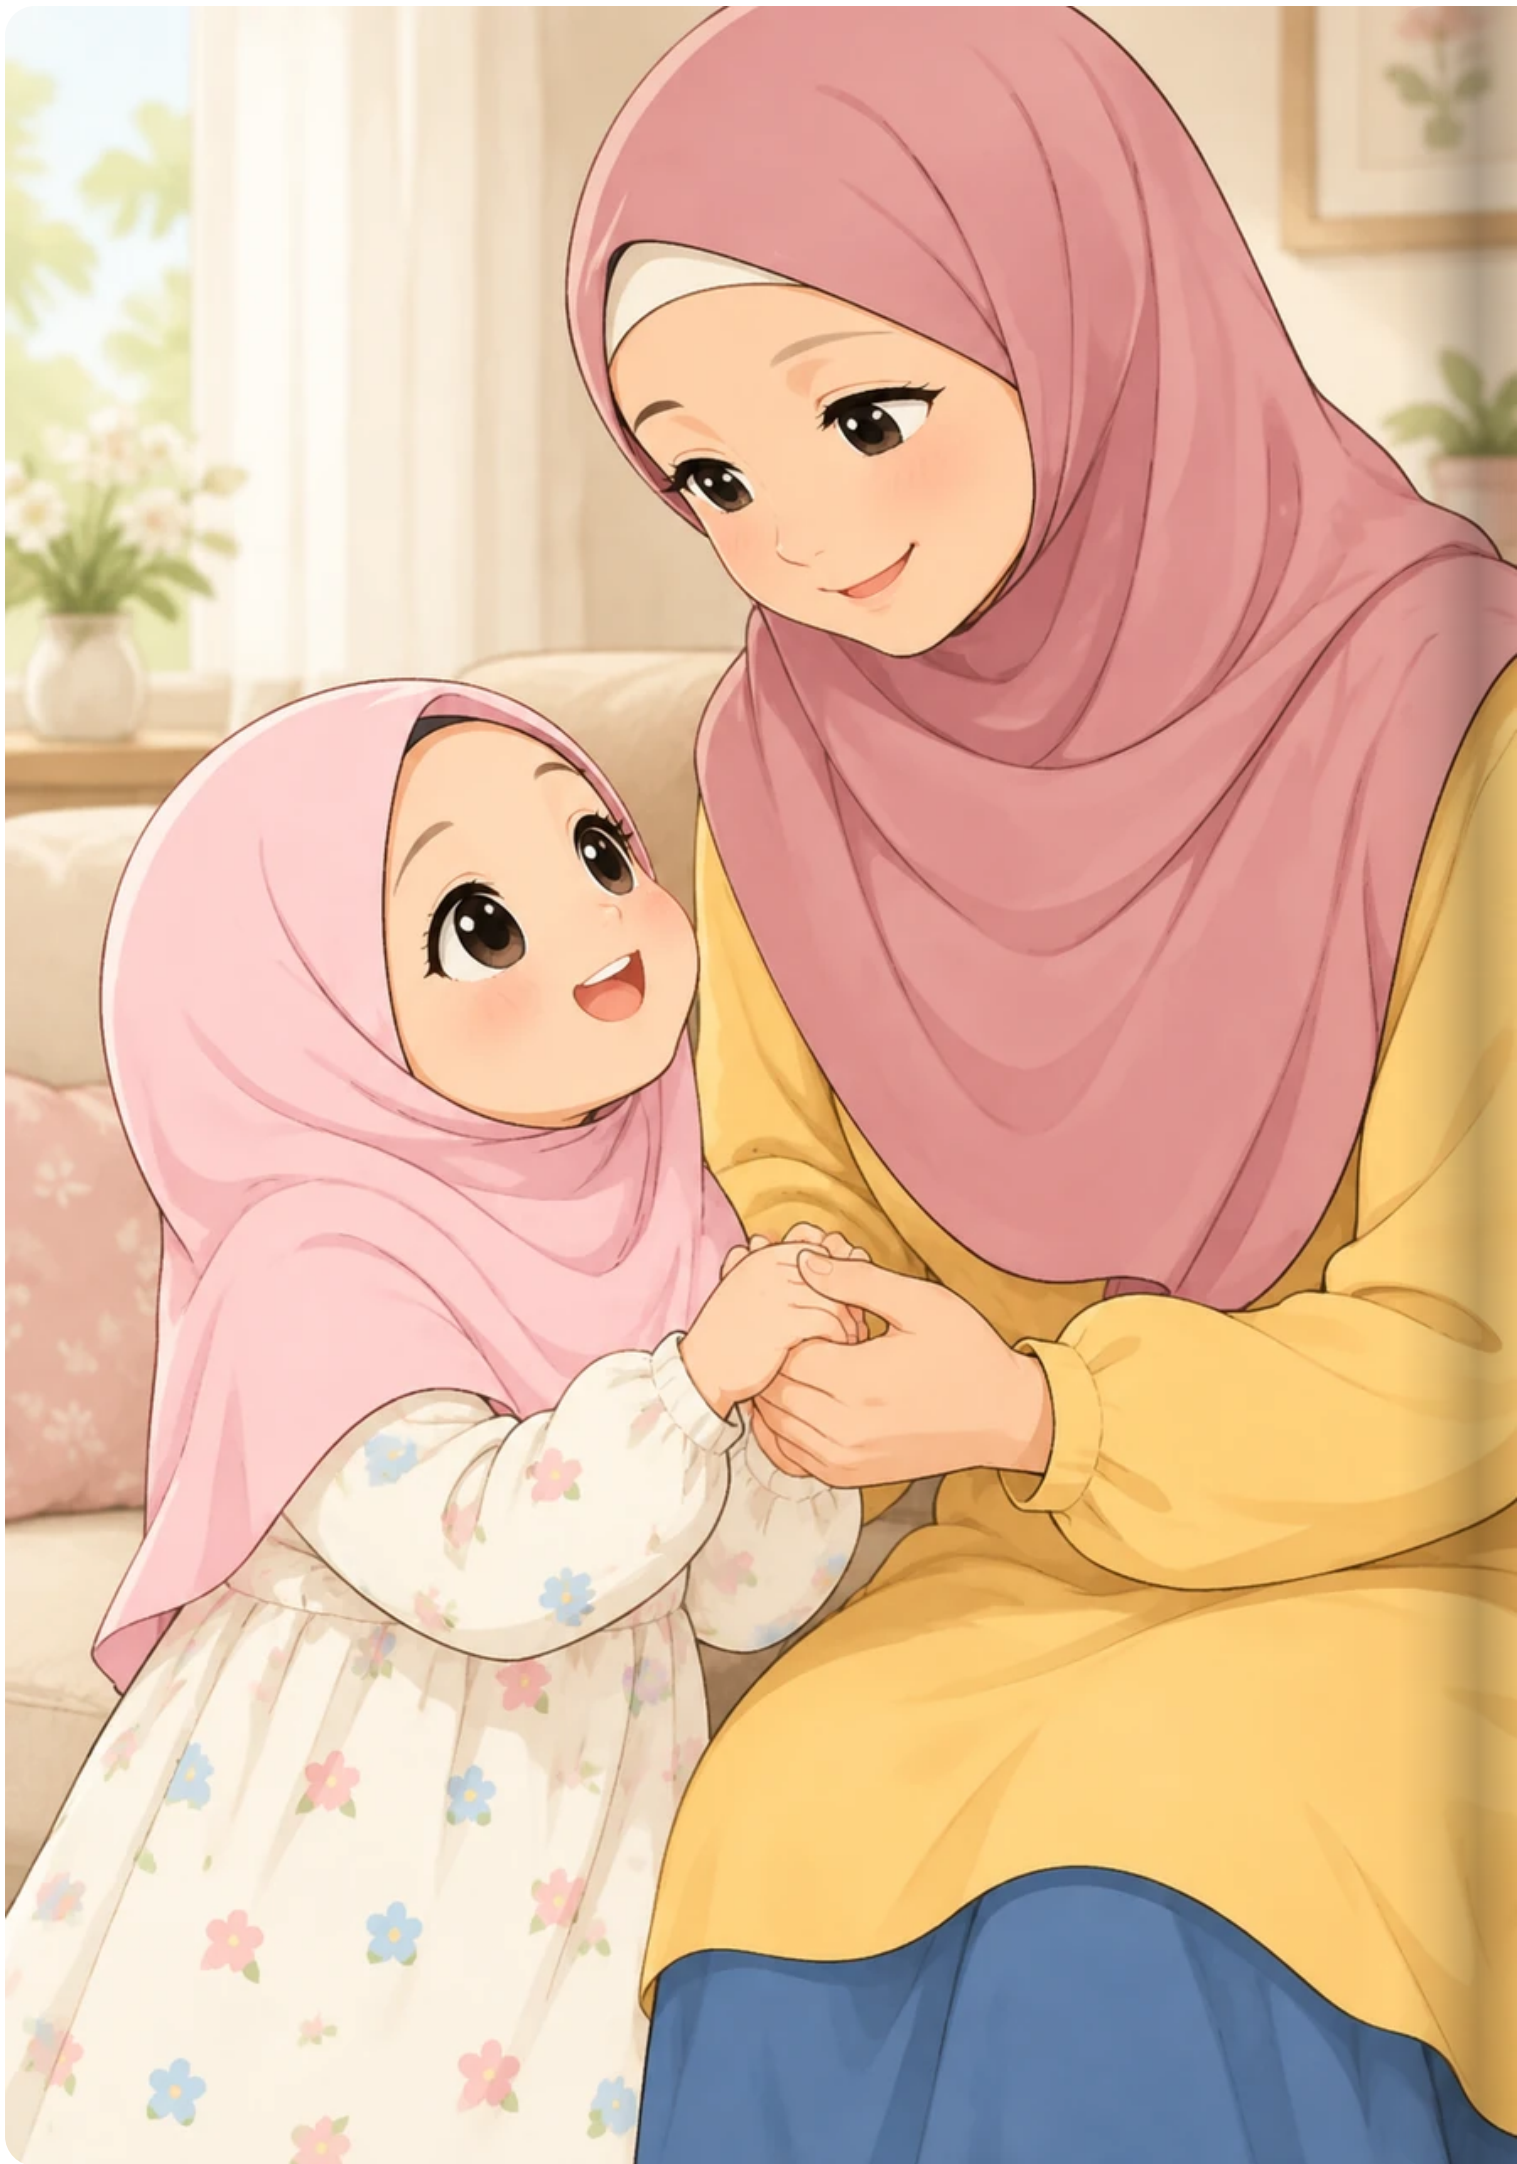

Fiyya looks back at the sky, watching the bright sun warm the earth and illuminate the clouds. She marvels at how vast and peaceful the sky looks today. Fiyya realizes that Allah designed the skies with gentle perfection.

Walking through the garden, Fiyya watches a fluttering butterfly rest near a songbird while a friendly cat wanders by. She giggles as she watches the animals play among the flowers. Fiyya learns that Allah created every living creature with care.

Kneeling down by the flowerbed, Fiyya gently touches a brightly colored blossom and smells its sweet scent. She feels deep happiness in her heart for the plants that grow around her home. Softly, she whispers a heartfelt thank you to Allah for the beauty of nature.

Fiyya looks down at her hands, wiggling her fingers before looking up into her mother's affectionate eyes. Her mother gently holds her hand and reminds her that Allah created Fiyya with endless love. Hearing this makes Fiyya feel extraordinarily special and cherished.

Later in the day, Fiyya happily builds towers with colorful blocks and paints pictures in her sunlit bedroom. She remembers that Allah is All-Seeing and always watches over her with loving kindness. Knowing this fills her heart with safety and peace.

In the quiet evening, Fiyya kneels on her prayer mat in her cozy room and gently raises her hands. She speaks softly, asking Allah to bless her family and keep them safe. She feels comforted knowing that Allah is All-Hearing and listens to all her prayers.

Sitting together with her family around the dinner table, Fiyya enjoys a warm meal prepared with love. She thanks Allah for the nutritious food, her loving parents, and her cozy home. Her heart shines with gratitude as everyone shares happy smiles.

As night falls, Fiyya snuggles under her soft blanket and looks out at the glowing moon and stars. With a peaceful smile, she reflects on all of Allah's wonderful gifts throughout her day. Wrapped in comfort and faith, she drifts into sweet and gentle dreams.
