

THE DALMATIAN BROTHERS

Firehouse Adventures

The Great Firehouse Mix-Up

Alicia Janonis

Bobby and Matrix explore the pristine gear room of Station Number Nine, surrounded by perfectly straight helmets and neatly paired boots. While Matrix admires the tidy rows, Bobby stands on his tiptoes to sniff a shiny gold badge, his tail wagging with excitement.

A loud crash echoes through the room as Bobby loses his balance, sending helmets, coats, and boots flying into a giant, messy pile. The fire alarm suddenly blares for a drill, and the two Dalmatian brothers realize they must fix the chaos before the firefighters arrive.

Using their incredible sense of smell, Bobby and Matrix work in perfect harmony to sort the peppermint and pine-scented gear back into place. Chief Miller presents the brave pups with shiny plastic badges, naming them honorary fire dogs for their teamwork and honesty.
