

The Secret Adventures of a Smitten Neighbor

boris sepulveda

Lola stands in the brightly lit kitchen, busy preparing an afternoon snack for her four younger siblings. She carefully counts out three apples, four bananas, and two bunches of grapes, but stops in confusion as she searches for the missing oranges.

Perched near the breadbox, a clever ginger cat watches Lola's confusion from a distance. The cat scoffs at how she can't see the oranges right in front of her, while Lola sighs, assuming her extreme exhaustion is making her hear her own subconscious mind speaking.

Later that afternoon, Lola's twelve-year-old sister, Mara, enjoys the warm sunshine in the backyard. Suddenly, the neighbor's ginger cat approaches her, looking polite and carrying a very important secret mission regarding Lola's beautiful white cat, Fresa.

Mara blushes in complete shock as the ginger cat speaks directly to her, introducing himself politely and asking how she is doing. The two sit together in the lush green grass, starting a very long and unusual conversation between a girl and a cat.

After a lengthy chat, Mara and the ginger cat happily devise a secret plan together. Mara promises that during lunchtime tomorrow, she will leave the second-floor window wide open so he can finally visit his crush.

Before saying goodbye, the ginger cat begs Mara not to say a single word to her older sister Lola about their arrangement. He covers his face in embarrassment, and Mara giggles, promising to keep their little afternoon operation a total secret.

The next day arrives in the blink of an eye, and the ginger cat stands nervously at the corner of the house just as lunch begins. He takes a deep breath and tells himself that today is the day he must be brave.

The brave neighbor cat climbs onto the roof and carefully steps up onto a wooden bench that Mara thoughtfully left out for him. Peering into the open room, he finally sees Fresa, a stunning white cat with bright blue eyes and perfectly groomed fur.

Fresa rises from her bed, which looks just like a tiny royal altar, and walks gracefully toward the window to see her visitor. The ginger cat shakes away his nerves, steps forward, and tells her how absolutely beautiful she looks today.

Fresa is instantly charmed by the ginger cat's elegant manners and sweet words, but their romantic moment is cut short when Lola suddenly walks into the room. The startled neighbor cat quickly leaps away and dashes off into the yard, leaving Fresa captivated.