

Bud and Muff's Sunny Fun

Satam K

Bud and Muff, a bubbly pair, loved to jump and run. Much fun they had, under the hot sun, their little faces full of glee.

They planned to find a yummy plum, a juicy, purple treat. With a skip and a hop, they ran on their feet, down a dusty little path.

A fluffy pup with a wagging tail gave them a friendly bark. It was a cute little cub, full of spunk and spark, wanting to join their fun.

A muddy puddle blocked their path, a bumpy, brown wet spot. Bud did a big jump, Muff followed right on the dot, with a little splash.

Under a small, flat rock, a little bug did creep. It had many tiny legs, ready for a fun leap, wiggling its antennae.

Up on a plum tree branch, a big, round fruit did hang. It looked so very yummy, a sweet, fruity tang, high above their heads.

Bud bent his back down low, giving Muff a boost up. She stretched her arm up high, to pluck the purple cup, a yummy plum just for them.

With much luck and a happy grin, they shared the juicy plum. What a super fun treat, for everyone to become yum, taking turns for a bite.

A little bird chirped a tune, sitting on a sturdy branch. It had a tiny red cap, a cute little hunch, watching them with bright eyes.

Bud and Muff gave a big hug, full of joy and much fun. Their sunny day adventure, happily done, as they trudged back home.
