

Ollie's Big Couch Dive

Brock Fritz

Ollie is a bundle of wild energy, zooming around the living room in his favorite silly superhero cape. He makes wacky laser sound effects while making hilarious faces at the family cat. His silly giggles echo all through the house as he plans his next big stunt.

With a triumphant shout, Ollie leaps high into the air toward his ultimate target. He executes a legendary high-flying belly flop right onto the plush cushions of the living room couch. The cushions bounce wildly under his brave descent as he cheers in victory.

Eager to repeat his heroic stunt, Ollie bounces right back up to the top cushion. He launches off the edge once more, but this time he misjudges his landing. With a loud thump, he tumbles head over heels onto the hardwood floor.

Ollie grabs his knee, tears welling up in his eyes as a sharp ouchie takes over the fun. His silly game comes to a sudden halt, and he calls out for help. Mom and Dad rush into the room to comfort their hurt little adventurer.

Mom and Dad gently scoop Ollie into their arms, wrapping him in a cozy blanket. They whisper reassuring words to calm his tears as they quickly carry him out to the car. It is time to make a quick trip to see the doctor.

At the bright clinic, a friendly doctor with a warm smile examines Ollie's swollen knee. After ensuring nothing is broken, the doctor wraps his leg in a colorful, star-patterned bandage that makes Ollie feel super brave. Soon, his big tears turn back into a gentle smile.

To celebrate Ollie's bravery, Mom and Dad take him straight to the neighborhood ice cream parlor. He happily licks a gigantic waffle cone piled high with sweet strawberry and rainbow sprinkle scoops. Every sweet bite makes his knee hurt a little less.

Back home and feeling like a champion, Ollie rides on Dad's shoulders down to the basement. Dad plugs in a pump to inflate a giant, squishy air mattress right in the middle of the floor. Ollie claps his hands in delight at the bouncy carpet.

Striking silly power stances, Ollie and Dad challenge each other to a gentle sumo wrestling match. They push and giggle, tumbling safely onto the cushiony surface of the air mattress. Mom cheers loudly from the stairs as the two warriors laugh together.

Completely worn out from his epic day of leaps, doctor visits, and sumo battles, Ollie curls up safely in his parents' arms. Snuggled together on the air mattress, Ollie closes his eyes with a satisfied grin. It was an eventful day full of big adventures and even bigger love.
