

CASE OF THE MISSING OLDEN BONE

Coco and Lilo: The Case of the Missing
Golden Bone

Yolani Fourie

Coco and Lilo sit in their cozy detective office, surrounded by magnifying glasses and maps of Pawsbury. Coco, the clever Border Collie, wears a tiny detective hat while Lilo, the curious Beagle, sniffs a suspicious-looking envelope on the desk.

Mayor Barnaby, a stout Bulldog with a worried expression, bursts through the door to report a crime. He explains that the legendary Golden Bone trophy has vanished from the town square just hours before the grand dog show.

At the park, the two detectives carefully examine the empty glass display case where the trophy once sat. Coco uses her magnifying glass to look for clues while Lilo follows a faint, mysterious scent lingering in the morning air.

Lilo discovers a trail of small, muddy paw prints leading away from the crime scene and into the thick bushes. Near a rosebush, Coco finds a scrap of bright blue silk ribbon snagged on a sharp thorn.

The duo encounters a group of chattering squirrels high in the oak trees who point toward the old lighthouse by the sea. The squirrels describe seeing someone carrying something very shiny through the meadow earlier that morning.

Coco and Lilo race through the tall, golden grass of the meadow, their ears flapping wildly in the wind. The scent is getting much stronger now, and they can see the long shadow of the lighthouse looming ahead of them.

THE LIGHTHOUSE MYSTERY

Inside the cool, dim lighthouse, they find a trail of blue ribbons leading up the winding spiral staircase. Every pawstep echoes against the stone walls as they climb higher, their hearts racing with excitement and anticipation.

MYSTERY OF THE LIGHTHOUSE BEACAN

In a small, sunlit corner at the very top of the lighthouse, they find a tiny, sleepy puppy named Pip. The little puppy is curled up fast asleep next to the shimmering Golden Bone, using it as a giant pillow.

THE CASE OF THE MISSING FEATHER

Coco and Lilo gently wake Pip and explain that the trophy belongs to the whole town for the big celebration. The puppy wags his tail and happily agrees to help the detectives carry the heavy prize back to the town square.

🐾 THE PAWSBURY MYSTERY – SOLVED! 🐾
🐾

The citizens of Pawsbury cheer loudly as Coco and Lilo return the Golden Bone just in time for the opening ceremony. The two brave detectives are awarded special golden medals for their cleverness and teamwork, ready for their next big case.