

Rid and Aish's Great Global Adventure

Radha Rajasekar

RID & AISH - BEST FRIENDS EXPLORE THE WORLD

THE GRAND JOURNEY

Rid and Aish stand before the magnificent Taj Mahal in India as the morning sun turns the white marble into a glowing pearl. Rid carefully studies his ancient map to find their location while Aish reaches for her pink crayon to capture the soft colors of the waking sky.

In the heart of Tokyo, Japan, the duo navigates the bustling Shibuya Crossing surrounded by towering buildings and vibrant neon signs. Rid checks his silver watch to time the fast-paced city life, and Aish uses her brightest colors to draw the electric glow of the street lights.

High above the streets of Paris, France, the friends climb the iron stairs of the Eiffel Tower while the wind whistles through the metal beams. Rid shares stories of the tower's history as Aish holds her sun hat tight, looking down at the tiny cars that look like colorful toys below.

The warm air of the Sahara Desert in Morocco surrounds them as they ride tall, bumpy camels across the rolling orange sand dunes. As the sun sets and turns the desert into waves of gold, Aish tries to capture the deep purple of the evening sky with her crayons.

RID & AISH

High in the misty mountains of Peru, Rid and Aish discover the ancient stone ruins of Machu Picchu tucked away in the clouds. While Rid explores the historic houses, Aish sits quietly in the grass to draw a soft, fuzzy llama with long ears grazing nearby.

RID & AISH: THE ITALIAN JOURNEY

The delicious scent of melting cheese fills the air in Italy as the explorers sit outside the massive, round Colosseum for a snack. They share a big, hot slice of pizza and talk about the brave people who visited this historic arena long ago.

Wrapped in thick, fuzzy coats and long scarves, Rid and Aish brave the chilly night air in Iceland to witness a miracle in the sky. They watch in awe as the Aurora Borealis dances above them in ribbons of bright green and blue magic.

On a thrilling safari in Tanzania's Serengeti National Park, the friends ride in a green jeep through the tall, yellow grass. They spot a royal golden lion resting peacefully, and Aish stays perfectly still to sketch his magnificent mane with her golden crayon.

Rid and Aish walk along the Great Wall of China, which winds like a giant stone dragon over the endless green hills. Rid explains how the wall protected the land while Aish draws the tiny trees in the distance, seeing the wall as a bumpy ribbon hugging the earth.

Their journey concludes in New York City, where they take a boat ride past the majestic Statue of Liberty holding her torch high. Rid looks through his binoculars at the soaring skyscrapers, and Aish draws the statue's crown, celebrating the end of their greatest adventure yet.