Yay! St. Patrick's Day!

Today is the day to find a leprecahun!

A grand adventure!

A magnificent rainbow!

SCENE 4: The Whispering Field

Clover followed the rainbow's path...

Scene 5 of 10:

Near an old, sturdy oak tree, something tiny and green sparkled. Clover titotpod closer, heart thumping with anticipation. A little caught the light, hidden amongst the grass.

Oh dear, a leprechaun must have lost this!

Clover knew what to do. "I must find the leprechun who who lost this precious hat," Clover declared bravely. It was a mission of kindness and a very important task.

Hello? Little leprechuan?

Suddenly, peeking shily from behind a giant mushroom, a tiny figure appeared. It was a leprechun, very sad and lost. "My hat!" the little leprechun squeaked, whose name was Lucky.
