

Lila's Log and Lullaby

Lori

Lila the cub wakes up in her cozy, soft bed. Her fur feels warm and fuzzy. She sees a big, rounded log outside her den. It looks like a fun place to play.

Lila stretches her tiny paws and runs to the log with a happy bounce. The log is old and brown, covered in soft moss. She wants to play a fun game of climb and jump.

Lila tries to jump over the log with all her might. Her little legs push hard, but her balance is tricky. Oh no, she tumbles with a tiny, soft fall!

Lila is not hurt at all, just a little surprised. She giggles a little, her round face crinkling. Then, she hears a soft, musical "ding-dong" bell sound.

The bell rings again, a sweet and happy tune. It seems to call Lila to a yummy lunch. Her tummy gives a little, gentle rumble, ready for food.

At lunch, Lila eats a yummy, warm meal from a wooden bowl. She takes big bites and sips sweet juice from a small cup. Her little tummy starts to fill up, feeling round and content.

After eating, Lila finds her favorite, cuddly doll. The doll has soft, plush fur and big, kind eyes. Lila loves her doll very, very much.

Lila holds her doll close, giving her a gentle hug. She gives the doll a playful pull to make her 'dance' and spin. They have a lot of fun together, twirling around.

The sun starts to set, painting the sky in soft pink and orange hues. Lila feels sleepy now, her eyelids getting heavy. She wants to lull her doll to sleep, just like her mom does for her.

Lila and her doll cuddle close together, nestled in a soft blanket. They nap together by the smooth, pastel wall of her den. Sweet dreams fill their quiet, peaceful rest.
