

GURBAJ'S GREAT GYM DAY

Gurbaj's Great Gym Day

Julie Metke

Gurbaj stands at the entrance of the bright, wide gymnasium with his backpack on. He sees the colorful floor markings and feels a flutter of excitement for gym class.

Gurbaj sits cross-legged on a blue circle, looking at his teacher with big, attentive eyes. He keeps his hands in his lap and listens carefully to the instructions for the day's activities.

Before the games begin, Gurbaj sits on a wooden bench to double-check his sneakers. He makes sure his laces are tied tight in a neat bow so he won't trip while he is running.

The class starts a game of tag, and Gurbaj runs with his arms out for balance, making sure to leave plenty of space between himself and his friends. He keeps his eyes looking forward to avoid any accidental bumps or collisions.

It is time for the relay race, and Gurbaj stands patiently behind the starting line. Even though he is eager to run, he waits for his teammate to give him a gentle high-five before he starts his turn.

Gurbaj practices dribbling a bright orange basketball, keeping the ball low and controlled. He remembers the rule to use the equipment only for its intended purpose and stays in his designated practice area.

When a friend accidentally slips on the shiny floor, Gurbaj stops running immediately to check on them. He offers a kind hand and asks if they are okay, showing that being a good friend is more important than winning.

After a fun game of soccer, Gurbaj cheers for both teams and gives his friends high-fives. He uses kind words and a big smile to celebrate everyone's hard work and effort.

The whistle blows for the end of class, and Gurbaj helps his classmates gather the balls and hoops. He carefully places the equipment back into the large mesh bins so the gym stays tidy and safe for the next class.

Gurbaj walks out of the gym with a sense of pride, knowing he followed the rules and kept his friends safe. He waves goodbye to his teacher, already looking forward to his next active adventure.
