

JULIAN'S TREASURE TRUNK

Julian's Big Adventures

Frank Kaufmann

A Journey Through Time

A Morning with Friends

Julian spends his morning at the school, building tall towers with his friends and sharing his toys. The sun shines through the window as he laughs with his favorite teachers in the bright and colorful classroom.

For a few days, Julian's chair at the small wooden table stays empty during snack time. His friends and teachers look toward the door, wondering where he could be and hoping he will come back to play very soon.

At the bustling station, Julian runs with open arms to greet his Obachan and Grandpa who have traveled from very far away. He is so happy to see them, and they wrap him in a warm, loving hug as the city lights twinkle behind them.

Back at home, Julian sits nestled between his grandparents on the sofa, surrounded by a mountain of colorful picture books. They spend hours reading stories together, pointing at the pictures and learning new words on every page.

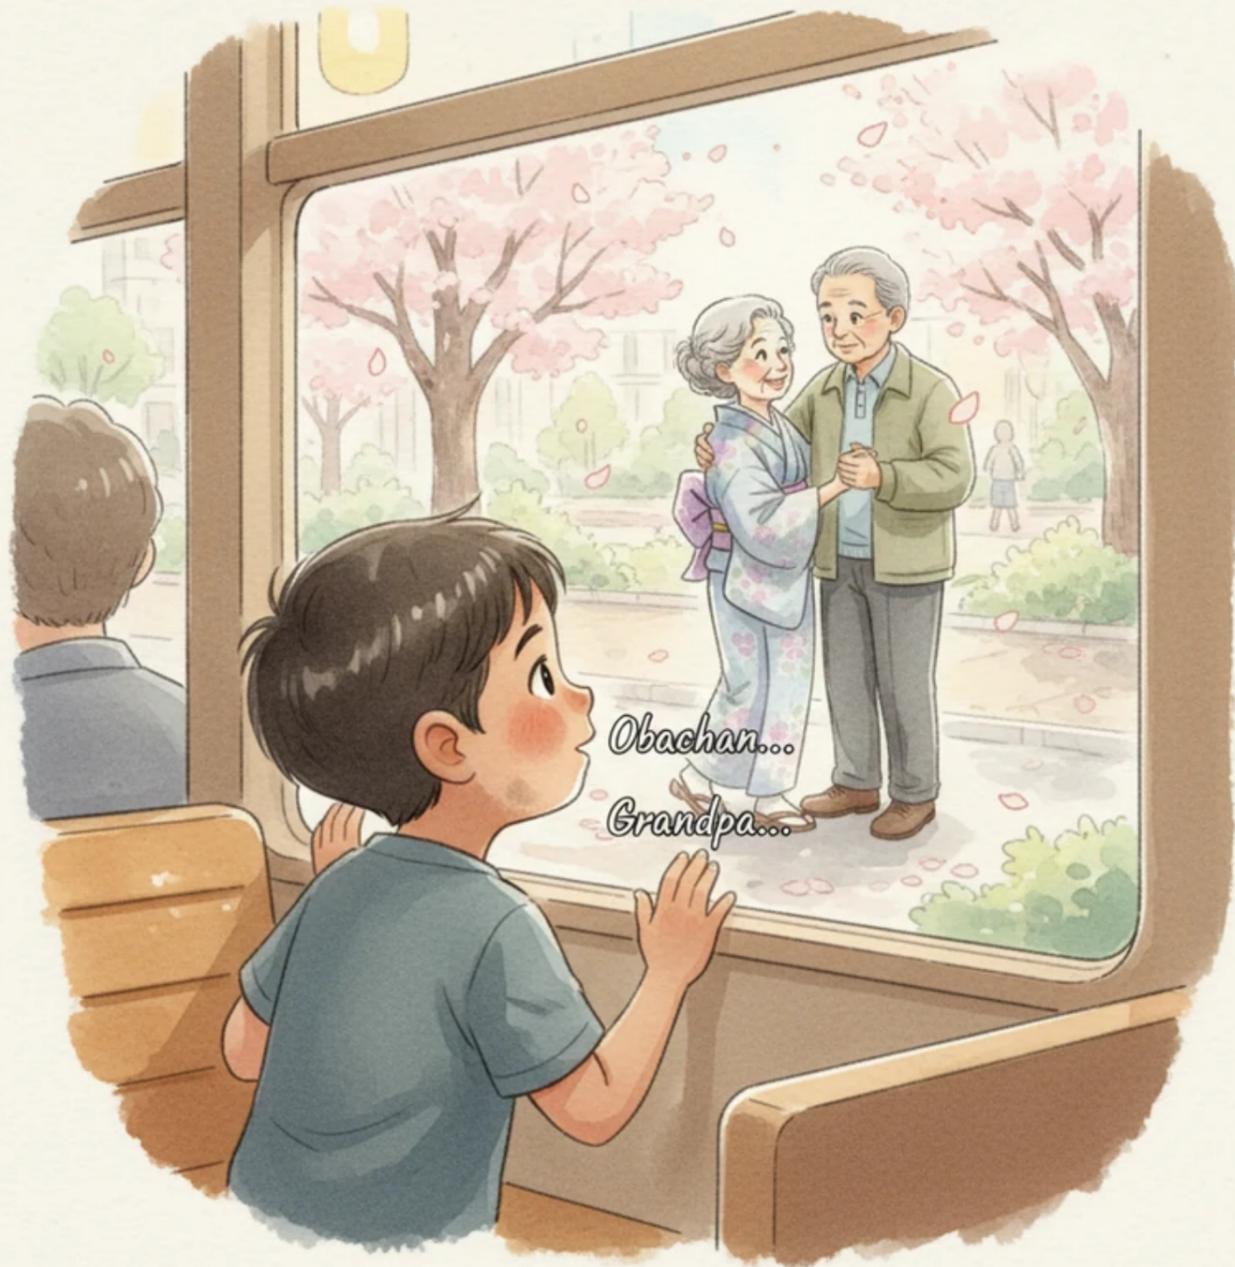

The family travels to the edge of a sparkling lake, where the water ripples under the wide blue sky. Julian explores the mysterious tunnels nearby, feeling like a brave explorer as he learns about the world around him.

While walking through a quiet, green area, Julian finds a charming little house made entirely of dark wood. He walks around it slowly, touching the rough logs and wondering about the people who built such a special place.

They stop at a beautiful Garden Cafe filled with vibrant flowers and leafy green plants hanging from the ceiling. Julian looks closely at the different shapes of the leaves, learning how each plant grows in its own special way.

Julian presses his face against the glass of the tram and the city train as they zip through the busy streets. He watches the tall buildings and colorful signs go by, fascinated by how the trains move people all across the big city.

On Monday morning, Julian walks back into his classroom with a giant smile on his face. His teachers and friends rush over to give him a warm welcome, happy to see that he is healthy and ready for a new day.

OUR GRAND ADVENTURE - HOME

Julian sits in a circle and tells everyone about his wonderful adventures and all the things he learned while he was away. Everyone is happy he is back, and soon they are all laughing and playing games together just like before.