

Rosie's Bright Geraldton Days

Maddi Greenaway

In the sunny coastal town of Geraldton, little Rosie lives in a happy house filled with love. She spends her mornings giggling with her Mum, Dad, and her big sister, Ivy, while their loyal dog, Red Boy, wags his tail nearby.

Rosie loves to be active and heads to her gymnastics class with a big smile. She practices her very best stretches and tries to do a tiny somersault on the soft blue mats while her teacher cheers her on.

Back at home, Rosie grabs her favorite brushes and bright paints to create a masterpiece. Ivy sits beside her, and together they turn white paper into a rainbow of colors, swirls, and happy suns.

It is time for a grand adventure in the living room with Rosie's Barbie Dream House. She carefully moves her dolls through the pink rooms while her favorite Peppa Pig figurine joins in on the fun for a pretend tea party.

Red Boy the dog is always ready for a game of chase in the backyard. Rosie laughs as she runs across the green grass, clutching her favorite blue cat toy tightly in her arms as the ocean breeze blows through her hair.

Today is extra special because Nanna and all the aunties and uncles have traveled all the way from Sydney to visit. The house is full of hugs, loud laughter, and the delicious smell of a big family feast being prepared in the kitchen.

Rosie's four cousins—Chase, Huxley, Knox, and Aurora—are here to play too! They all run around together, sharing toys and playing games, making the house feel even more alive with their happy energy.

After a busy day of playing with her cousins, Rosie finds a quiet corner to cuddle with her blue cat toy. She feels very lucky to have such a big family and so many friends to share her favorite stories with.

As the sun sets over the Geraldton horizon, Mum and Dad tuck Rosie and Ivy into their cozy beds. They read a story together about brave explorers, and Red Boy curls up on the rug, keeping everyone safe and warm.

Rosie drifts off to sleep with a heart full of happiness, dreaming of her next painting. In her dreams, she is soaring through the air like a gymnast, surrounded by the family and toys she loves most in the world.
