Daniel stands proudly in front of his classroom blackboard, holding a colorful pointer. He smiles warmly at his teacher and friends as he begins his presentation, explaining that summer is one of the four seasons.

A bright, golden sun shines high in a clear blue sky over a vibrant green meadow. The flowers are fully bloomed and dancing in the warm breeze, showcasing that summer is the warmest season of the year.

A beautiful transition shows a gentle spring rain washing away to reveal a brilliant, blazing summer sun. Daniel points out to his classmates how perfectly summer comes right after the fresh spring season.

Daniel stands outside under a big yellow sun, shielding his eyes with a happy grin. The air looks warm and shimmering, perfectly capturing how the weather is always hot and sunny during these bright months.

Daniel stands happily in his bedroom showing off his favorite summer wardrobe. He is dressed in bright shorts, a colorful t-shirt, and has his swimming suit and goggles ready for a day of fun.

Daniel and his friends are having a wonderful time playing outside in a lush green backyard. Some are running through a colorful lawn sprinkler while Daniel happily swims in a cool, sparkling blue pool.

Daniel sits happily at a wooden picnic table under a shady tree, enjoying his favorite summer treats. He has a big slice of juicy red watermelon, a delicious melting ice cream cone, and a tall glass of fresh juice.

Daniel sits on a beautiful, sandy beach next to the rolling ocean waves under a bright blue sky. He uses his plastic shovel to build a magnificent sandcastle, smiling because he loves to swim all day and play in the sand.
