

Lumi's Luminous Night

Jana Stahurzka

Lumi, a small, bright yellow electric car, often felt a little shy about her extra-bright headlights. While other cars had soft, gentle beams, Lumi's could cut through the thickest fog, making her feel a bit different. She loved to practice her special 'Night Vision' in quiet, shadowy corners, but she kept her extraordinary ability a secret.

One evening, a sudden city-wide blackout plunged everything into darkness. Streetlights flickered out, and even most car headlights struggled to pierce the gloom. Panic spread as cars couldn't see the roads or find their way home, and a tiny, lost firefly car named Flicker cried, unable to find its sparkling family.

Seeing Flicker's distress and the widespread confusion, Lumi took a deep breath. She decided it was time to share her gift. With a soft click, her special headlights activated, glowing with an extraordinary, powerful light that gently pushed back the darkness, illuminating the worried faces of the cars and the winding road ahead.

Lumi bravely drove forward, her luminous beams creating a clear, safe path for little Flicker. Other cars, amazed by her brilliant light, gratefully followed behind, their fears easing with every illuminated turn. Lumi guided them carefully, avoiding obstacles, until they reached a small, safely lit area on the edge of the city.

Flicker joyfully zipped into the embrace of its family, and all the cars cheered loudly for Lumi. She beamed with pride, no longer shy about her unique talent. From that night on, Lumi was celebrated as the brave little car with the magnificent night vision, always ready to light the way for her friends.
