

Leo's Great Color Hunt

Hannalori Weller

Leo puts on his sun hat and grabs a magnifying glass, ready for a grand adventure. He steps out into a bright, sunny meadow to begin his very own color hunt.

LEO'S LOST LEGACY

Among the green leaves of a small tree, Leo spots a shiny, round apple. It is a brilliant shade of red, looking crisp and delicious in the warm afternoon sun.

Leo looks up at a tall, leafy tree and finds a bunch of yellow bananas hanging high. They curve like golden smiles against the backdrop of the clear sky.

Deep within the thick foliage, Leo discovers a smooth mango tucked away. This one is a lush, vibrant green that matches the dancing leaves around it.

Leo searches high and low, looking behind bushes and under stones for a splash of purple. He wonders where his favorite color could be hiding in the great outdoors.

THE PIXEL WIZARD

Since he cannot find purple anywhere, Leo decides to create his own magic. He takes out a paintbrush and happily splashes purple stars and swirls onto a wooden fence.

Leo finds a cozy picnic spot and sees a giant, juicy slice of pink watermelon. The bright pink fruit is dotted with tiny black seeds and looks like a perfect summer treat.

Right next to the watermelon sits a perfectly round orange fruit. Leo laughs as he realizes that the fruit and the color have the exact same name.

LEO - THE EXPLORER

Now Leo is looking for blue, but he soon realizes he is already covered in it. He looks down at his favorite blue sweater and blue shoes, which he wears everywhere he goes.

Leo sits on the soft grass, surrounded by all the colorful things he found today. He looks at you with a big, friendly smile and asks what your favorite color is.
