

The Secret Visitors of Freinet

Carolina Ramírez Campo

Inside the bright and cheerful classroom at Freinet School, children sit together engaged in their morning activities. Suddenly, the teacher receives a strange letter with no name or return address, bearing only a delicate little paw print on the envelope.

The teacher carefully opens the envelope and reads the letter aloud to the eager class. The message reveals that tiny, curious visitors from a very special place are coming to meet them, bringing a magical surprise.

Gasps of wonder fill the room as the children begin to imagine what these guests might look like. Mila wonders if they have oversized ears or fluffy tails, while her friends imagine glowing wings, bright colorful fur, or four small paws.

The teacher notices a small card hidden beneath the original letter and reads a second clue to the class. The card explains that these peaceful visitors will soon arrive in a place filled with green trees, blooming flowers, and fresh air.

Curious questions bubble up throughout the classroom as everyone wonders when the visitors will arrive. Mila raises her hand, asking if they will be able to speak with their new friends and how they can best take care of them.

Turning the letter over, the teacher discovers a final message written in tiny script across the back. It reminds the children that to unlock the visitors' secrets, they must practice patience, listen carefully, and observe with gentle attention.

Throughout the rest of the day, a sense of quiet magic fills the school as the children listen intently to every soft breeze. Every rustle outside the window makes Mila wonder if the special visitors are already watching from nearby.

The children gather their jackets and walk together into the sunlit park next to the school. Mila kneels down to look closely beneath the leafy branches, between colorful garden blossoms, and around the wooden park benches.

Nestled in the quiet calm of the park, Mila realizes these special pets do not need words to offer companionship. They are drawn to peaceful minds, steady focus, and children who know how to listen with open hearts.

Standing softly in the garden with eyes wide open and imagination ready, Mila smiles as she feels the magic in the air. The mysterious visitors are about to arrive, ready to share their secret lesson of tranquility and wonder.