Rasha

Lily, Wisam, Ammar, Mum, and Dad gather in the living room, their faces beaming with excitement. They're all talking at once, anticipating the big Mother's Day party coming this Saturday. Grandmas and Grandpas are coming, making it extra special!

Lily sits at the kitchen table, a big, colorful checklist spread before her. She carefully points to items with a crayon, explaining all the important tasks to her eager family members. Everyone looks ready to jump into action and help Mum and Dad.

With a cheerful grin, Lily diligently wipes down the shiny coffee table in the sitting room, making it sparkle. Mum smiles warmly at her, handing her a clean cloth. The room is already looking much brighter and tidier thanks to Lily's hard work.

In his bright bedroom, Wisam, with a funny, determined expression, scoops up a pile of colorful toys and tucks them neatly into a big toy chest. He hums a happy tune as he tidies, making sure everything is just right for the party guests.

On Friday, the whole family bursts into a bustling shopping mall, pushing a giant cart. They fill it with vibrant presents, delicious party food, and even some snazzy new clothes for everyone to wear. The air is buzzing with joyful anticipation.

Saturday morning arrives, and Lily, wearing a cute chef's hat, stands proudly beside Mum in the kitchen. She carefully stirs a pot of bubbling sauce, learning to cook Mum's special recipes. Delicious smells already fill the air.

Dad and Wisam work together, stretching colorful streamers across the living room and carefully hanging bright balloons. Wisam giggles as a balloon bobs around him, and Dad expertly ties ribbons, transforming the house into a festive wonderland.

Ammar sits at a table covered in glitter and colored paper, cutting out shapes for Mother's Day cards. Lily and Wisam lean in, offering their creative ideas and helping him draw pretty flowers and write sweet messages for Mum and their grandmas.

Dad carefully wraps a gift in shiny paper, while Lily and Wisam hold the ribbon and stick on a big, sparkly bow. They giggle as the presents pile up, each one a secret surprise waiting to be unwrapped. Their teamwork makes wrapping extra fun.

Finally, the house is filled with laughter and happy chatter! Grandmas and Grandpas arrive, giving big hugs to everyone. The table is laden with food, balloons float everywhere, and Lily watches her family, feeling so happy and proud of their special Mother's Day party.
