

Melodies of Attraction: Jully at Allegro Conservatory

Alana Gadea

Jully walks gracefully through the sunny glass archway of Allegro Classical Conservatory alongside her best friend Tina. With long flowing blonde hair, delicate see-through Korean bangs, striking light green eyes, and an effortlessly elegant posture, Jully shines brighter than the morning sunlight.

Directly across the courtyard sits the modern training facility of Blue Lock, where six star strikers—Isagi, Rin, Nagi, Reo, Bachira, and Barou—are taking a short breath between intense training sessions. The energetic chatter of the courtyard fills the air as students move between classes.

As Jully laughs at a joke from Tina and adjusts her armful of sheet music, all six Blue Lock athletes suddenly stop in their tracks. A strange spell falls over them as their eyes lock onto Jully, completely ignoring Tina and everything else around them.

Bachira tilts his head with a fascinated, cat-like grin while Nagi lowers his smartphone, utterly paralyzed by Jully's radiant charm. Neither of them can tear their gaze away from the bright golden-haired musician.

Rin crosses his arms, his usual stern expression giving way to a deep, intense fascination that burns in his teal eyes. Standing beside him, Isagi feels his heart leap into a rapid rhythm, utterly hypnotized by her serene green gaze.

Barou stands tall and silent, caught entirely off guard by Jully's flawless grace and commanding visual harmony. Meanwhile, Reo leans against the railing with a breathless smile, recognizing the aura of a true superstar.

Inside Allegro's grand recital hall, Jully takes her seat at a magnificent black grand piano while Tina watches proudly from the wings. Jully gently touches the keys, effortlessly fusing classical harmony with dynamic pop mashups full of passion and youth.

Drawn across the shared plaza by the enchanting piano melodies echoing into the open air, the six Blue Lock prodigies slip quietly into the back row of the auditorium. They stand together in silent awe, spellbound by the sheer genius and emotion spilling from her fingertips.

Jully concludes her breathtaking performance with a sweeping flourish and a radiant, warm smile that lights up the entire stage. At that very moment, a powerful wave of affection and obsession takes root deep within the hearts of all six boys.

As Jully walks out into the grand hallway after her recital, Isagi, Rin, Nagi, Reo, Bachira, and Barou step forward to greet her together. Surrounded by six extraordinary soccer stars offering captivated praise, Jully smiles softly as an unforgettable new chapter begins.
