

Leo's Viral Disaster

Pavla Maštaliřová

Leo has decided to become a famous internet star today. He has bought a big ring light and a new camera, but he hasn't cleaned his messy bedroom yet.

Leo wants to film a cooking video for his fans. He has put ten eggs and a lot of flour into a bowl, but he hasn't read the instructions correctly.

The kitchen is a total disaster because the cake has exploded in the oven. Leo's sister looks at the mess and asks, "Have you ever used an oven before?"

Leo has moved to the living room to record a cool dance video. He has practiced the moves for two hours, but he has accidentally put on two different shoes.

His dog, Buster, has joined the video and is jumping around wildly. Buster has stolen Leo's favorite hat and has run under the sofa with it.

Leo has uploaded his first video to the internet and waits for fame. He has checked his phone every minute, but he hasn't received any likes yet.

Leo has gone to the park to film some beautiful nature scenes for his followers. Unfortunately, he has tripped over a big rock and has fallen into the duck pond.

His friends, Sam and Kim, have arrived at the park and are laughing loudly. "We have just watched your pond video, and it is the funniest thing ever!" they say.

Leo has checked his account again and cannot believe his eyes. He has gained one thousand followers in an hour because everyone loves his clumsy mistakes.

Leo has finally found his true talent as a comedian. He hasn't become a chef or a dancer, but he has become the world's funniest teenager.
