Our Summer Adventures

After school, the cheerful friends head home together along the sun-drenched street, with Danya proudly carrying his bright blue backpack.

The children walked past the old wooden fence, where five fluffy sparrows sat quietly together

Suddenly, Dan stops and raises a finger to his lips, signaling for everyone to be quiet. Masha and Anya freeze, listening closely.

A faint bark breaks the silence. The children look around in surprise, but the street is completely empty.

The sound rings out again, much louder this time. Everyone looks down at Danya's blue backpack as it begins to move.

Danya slowly unzipped his backpack, and a tiny, curious face peeked out.

It turns out to be an adorable puppy named Ryzhik, who secretly climbed into the backpack before school.

Ryzhik happily wags his tail, leaps out of the backpack onto the green grass, and playfully runs ahead. The children laugh out loud with joy, realizing that today they have gained the most fun-loving new classmate.
