New Job

Sakib's University Studies

Nahid decides that Sakib will move into the new city apartment with Yasmin for his university studies, while Nahid takes a job transfer to a distant town and Yasmin starts her new high-profile corporate job.

Arriving at the bright modern apartment, Sakib felt nervous about living under the same roof as his formidable sister-in-law.

Every afternoon, after completing his classes at the university, Sakib hurried home to take on the household chores.

An illustration of a man with dark hair, wearing a light blue button-down shirt, sitting on the edge of a bed. He is gently placing a blue cloth on the forehead of a woman lying in bed. The woman has long dark hair and is wearing a blue long-sleeved shirt. She appears to be asleep or resting. The bed is covered with a blue blanket. To the left of the bed, on a wooden nightstand, is a bowl of yellow soup, a glass of water, a tissue box, and a thermometer. In the background, there is a lamp, a framed picture on the wall, and a window showing rain outside.

When Yasmin fell ill, Sakib
never left her side.

Through the long, rainy nights,
he stayed by her bed, checking
on her, bringing her warm soup,
and gently placing a cool compress
on her forehead.

His love wasn't just in words,
but in every small act of care —
reminding her that she was never alone, no matter how sick
or how cold the night.

Thank you, Sakib.
I'm truly grateful
for everything you've done for me. You've been so kind, patient, and selfless, even when I was being difficult.
I don't know what I would have done without you.

As the weeks passed, a genuine and comfortable friendship blossomed between them.

Over time, Sakib realized his affection for Yasmin had grown far beyond respect, yet every gaze brought the image of his elder brother to mind.

Torn between his feelings and loyalty to Nahid, Sakib kept his emotions buried to preserve family harmony.

Sakib looks at his brother Nahid and sister Yasmin with a grateful heart.

After many challenges, their family has finally found harmony again.

He feels truly blessed to have them by his side, and he cherishes this new chapter filled with love, support and togetherness.
