

Thuraya and the Magic of the Long Thaa

eb alreem

THURAYA

On a beautiful sunny day, a young girl named Thuraya was taking a stroll through a vibrant garden filled with blooming flowers and singing birds.

While walking, she encountered a small fox sitting under a tree, looking very thoughtful and trying to whisper the sound of his own name.

THURAYA AND THE LETTER SPIRIT

The little fox looked up at Thuraya and said, I love the sound of the letter Thaa, but I want it to be long and musical!

Suddenly, the letter Thaa appeared in the air, glowing with a soft light, and explained that it needed the help of the Mad vowels to grow longer.

The letter Alif stepped forward to join Thaa, creating the long sound Thaa, and suddenly images of a snake and ancient symbols appeared in the air.

Next, the letter Waw came to join Thaa, forming the deep and round sound Thoo, and the air was filled with the scent of fresh garlic.

Finally, the letter Ya joined in to create the ringing sound Thee, and beautiful colorful clothes began to flutter around them like butterflies.

The little fox was overjoyed and began to sing the new sounds Thaa, Thoo, and Thee, feeling that his voice had finally become long and beautiful.

He hopped and danced around Thuraya, practicing his new long sounds and laughing with pure happiness at his magical discovery.

Thuraya and the fox shared a happy moment in the garden, celebrating the beauty of the long vowels before the sun began to set over the horizon.