

LEO'S BRIGHT MORNING ADVENTURE

Leo's Bright Morning Adventure

Yahya Kachouani

The first rays of sunshine peeked through Leo's window, painting a warm glow across his cozy room. His dinosaur alarm clock chirped a cheerful tune, gently nudging him awake. Leo blinked, a soft smile spreading across his face as he realized it was a brand new day.

With a big stretch and an even bigger yawn, Leo wiggled his toes and bounced out of bed. His colorful pajamas swished as he did a little happy dance on the rug. He was ready to start his morning adventure!

In the bathroom, Leo grabbed his bright blue toothbrush and squirted on some sparkly toothpaste. He brushed his teeth with gusto, making funny faces in the mirror as foam tickled his lips. Sparkly clean, his smile shone like the morning sun.

Down in the kitchen, the smell of yummy toast filled the air. Leo skipped to the table, his tummy rumbling with excitement for breakfast. He saw his favorite cereal box waiting, ready for a delicious start to the day.

As Leo poured his milk, his hand wobbled just a tiny bit. SPLASH! A puddle of white milk spread across the table, making a little lake around his bowl. Oh no! His cheerful morning suddenly felt a little bit messy.

A grown-up quickly came to the rescue with a soft cloth and a kind smile. "Accidents happen, Leo!" they said gently, wiping up the spill in a flash. Soon, a fresh, full glass of milk was placed beside his bowl, making everything alright again.

Leo happily munched his cereal, feeling much better now that the spill was gone. After breakfast, he dashed to his room to pack his bright red backpack. He carefully tucked in his favorite storybook and a shiny apple for snack time.

Time to go! Leo sat on the floor, pulling on his comfy sneakers. He tied the laces in big, bouncy bows, making sure they were extra snug for his walk to school. He was all set for a day of learning and fun!

Waving goodbye to his grown-up, Leo stepped out the door, his backpack bouncing lightly on his back. The path to school was bright and sunny, and he hummed a happy tune as he walked. Birds chirped along with him, making the morning even more cheerful.

Soon, the colorful school gates came into view, and Leo saw his friends waving from the playground. A big grin spread across his face as he hurried inside, ready for a wonderful day filled with laughter and new discoveries.