

Echoes of Obsession: The Heart of Kolkata

Rokeya Ahmed

The prestigious Chowdhury Academy stands as a monument of wealth in Kolkata, where students in elegant international-style uniforms walk through marble halls. Among them is Kaushik, the silent heir to an empire, whose intense gaze never leaves the graceful Rimisha Roy as she moves through the school with effortless charm.

Kaushik watches from a distance, his deep dark brown eyes filled with a possessive fire that remains hidden from the world. To his peers, he is the cold and devastatingly handsome future CEO, but in his heart, he is a man consumed by a love for Rimi that borders on a dangerous obsession.

The elite group sets off for a school-authorized camping trip, traveling to a luxurious mountain retreat that feels like a world away from the city. Rimi looks ethereally beautiful in her winter attire, her long hair catching the light as Kaushik maintains a constant, protective presence by her side.

Hiya and Arun join Kaushik and Rimi near the campsite, their laughter filling the crisp air as they enjoy the privileges of their high-society upbringing. Despite the social gathering, Kaushik's focus remains solely on Rimi, his dominating personality ensuring that he is always her closest confidant and shield.

As evening falls, the students gather around a massive bonfire, its orange glow reflecting off the surrounding snow and ice. While the others share stories and lunch, Kaushik sits in silence, his muscular frame tense as he monitors every person who dares to approach his Rimi.

A jealous girl from their social circle lures Rimi away from the warmth of the fire, her voice dripping with bitterness and false accusations. Rimi attempts to calm the situation with her characteristic sweetness and grace, unaware of the deep-seated malice growing in the other girl's heart.

In a sudden fit of rage, the jealous girl shoves Rimi backward into a deep, hidden ice pool at the edge of the clearing. The freezing, dark water swallows Rimi instantly, her fragile frame disappearing beneath the surface as the girl watches in horrified silence.

The news of the accident reaches the bonfire, and Kaushik reacts with frantic, raw energy, sprinting toward the ice pool with a look of devastating fear. His heart pounds against his chest as he realizes his 'pori' is trapped beneath the thick, frozen crust of the mountain water.

Reaching the edge of the pool, Kaushik does not hesitate, slamming his bare fists into the jagged ice with terrifying force. He punches through the frozen layer repeatedly, ignoring the blood dripping from his knuckles and the biting cold, driven only by the need to save the girl he loves.

With a final, powerful surge of strength, Kaushik plunges his arms into the frigid depths and pulls Rimi upward into his embrace. He holds her shivering, soaked body against his muscular chest, his eyes burning with an intense, dark devotion that signals he will never let her go.
