

Flora's Nature Adventure

by Riley Thorner

Flora, a bright-eyed girl with pigtails, skipped into the sunny backyard, a basket in hand. A colorful number card, pulled from the basket, showed the number '1'. Excitedly, she began her nature hunt.

First, Flora spotted a single, perfect red leaf fluttering gently to the ground. She carefully picked it up, admiring its shape and color, and placed it gently in her basket. One leaf found!

Next, Flora drew the number '4'. She looked around, her eyes scanning the ground and the trees. She found four smooth, grey rocks nestled near the base of a tall oak tree.

Flora then drew the number '7'! She giggled as she searched, her little legs carrying her further into the garden. Finally, she found seven beautiful purple flowers blooming in a sunny patch.

Flora, tired but happy, sat beside her basket, filled with her treasures. She counted each item: the leaf, the rocks, and the flowers. She smiled, proud of her nature finds and her newfound number skills.

As the sun began to set, Flora returned home, her basket almost overflowing. She knew that every day could be an adventure, filled with numbers, nature, and the joy of discovery. She couldn't wait for her next nature hunt!
