

The Secret Vacation of Leo's Socks

by Anastasiia Rezanova

Leo is a messy boy. He loves soccer, but he hates when his socks disappear. One sock from every pair is always missing! Leo is wearing his soccer uniform in his room. He is very frustrated.

Leo asks his T-shirt, "Where do my socks go?" The T-shirt shrugs. It doesn't know. Then, Leo talks to his baseball cap. The baseball cap is gossiping with his other clothes.

The baseball cap whispers, "The socks are on vacation! They don't want to be a pair!" Leo is surprised. He looks around his messy room. He needs to find the missing socks!

Leo looks under the kitchen table. "There is one blue sock!" he shouts. The sock is small and happy. Leo asks the blue sock why he is hiding. The sock smiles and doesn't answer.

Next, Leo goes outside. He looks in the garden and sees a rose bush. "There is another blue sock!" Leo yells. The second sock is near the rose bush and it is also very happy. He has a vacation.

Leo talks to the two blue socks. "Being a pair is fun!" he says. "You can play soccer and stay warm!" The socks look at each other. They smile, and then they decide to be a pair again. Leo is happy.